RFEF Coaching Course Program

The Program

The Spanish National Team has participated in 13 editions of the World Cup, and hosted the 1982 edition. The best result obtained in this competition is the title of World Champions; a National milestone achieved in South Africa's 2010 World Cup.

Spain has also participated in 9 editions of the European Championship, with an outstanding performance for the first time on 1964; being proclaimed European Champions by defeating the Soviet Union in the final.

The Spanish national team is currently ranked number 1 in the FIFA World Ranking after impressive 2010 World Cup and back to back 2008 and 2012 European Championship titles.

These victories make Spain the only national team in history to win three major tournaments consecutively. These achievements have led many commentators, experts and former players to consider the current Spanish side the best ever in world football.

This RFEF (Spain's Soccer Federation) is proud to offer you a week long coaching course in the same hotel and training facilities where the national team trains "The City of Fútbol."

The Program

Spain has also been very well known for its player development success and this has been shown by the number of titles such as:

- U-17 (EURO)- 1986, 1988, 1991, 1997, 1999, 2001, 2007, and 2008.
- U-19 (EURO)- 1995, 2002, 2004, 2006, 2007, 2011, and 2012.
- U-21 (EURO)- 1986, 1998, and 2011.
- U-20 (World)-1999.
- Women U-19 (EURO)- 2004.
- Women U-17 (EURO)- 2010 and 2011.
